

The Tour of Britain - Working Group Needed

What will Viewers see when Cropwell Bishop is on live TV? – Come Along and Help

Painted bikes, yellow bunting, coloured plant-pots, field-art: how do we show the world that we are proud of where we live?

With just two months to go before 100+ professional cyclist's race through our village, their every pedal stroke captured by camera men leaning from the back of motorbikes and hanging from hovering helicopters, what will ITV4 viewers see on their TV screens?

Well, apart from the cyclists themselves, they will see what we put on display. What would you like them to see?

Like most other village on the route of the Tour of Britain, Cropwell Bishop is forming a 'Working Group' to gather ideas and put them into effect on the day the race hits us on Saturday 8th September.

Come along to the Old School on Monday evening (9th July) at 7.30pm to hear ideas being put forward and maybe suggest some of your own. We anticipate that children will contribute as much as adults to the village festivities on that Saturday morning in September.

Are you a regular cyclist, or someone who has watched races on TV, or maybe you are just keen to see Cropwell Bishop put on a good show?

Whoever you are, you will be made most welcome.

So, make a note: next Monday, 7.30pm at the Old School. There are no World Cup football matches that day.

See you there.
